

CUA40715 Certificate IV in Design

COURSE INFORMATION

DESCRIPTION OF COURSE

The CUA40715 Certificate IV in Design qualification provides a pathway to a career in design via further training and study or employment. Students work to achieve competency in design related skills and knowledge. They develop their personal abilities and skills to produce a folio of work suitable to gain entry to further study or employment in Design. The qualification will provide participants with the knowledge and skills to:

- Demonstrate understanding of a broad knowledge base incorporating some theoretical concepts
- Apply solutions to a defined range of unpredictable problems
- Identify and apply skill and knowledge areas to a wide variety of contexts, with depth in some areas
- Identify, analyse and evaluate information from a variety of sources
- Take responsibility for own outputs in relation to specified quality standards
- Take limited responsibility for the quantity and quality of the output of others

ACTIVITIES/TASKS

Delivery is via weekly practical, theory and workshop sessions. Units of competency (UOCs) are clustered and embedded within the NCAT Folio Preparation course subjects and are delivered over the course of the full year. Activities are based on the submission of Job Briefs of set workplace tasks or projects, participation in-group discussions, and a final presentation on the implementation and outcomes of specified projects. As well as completing individual job briefs, participants must attend & participate in: practical workshops, tests, demonstrations, lectures, presentations, excursions, exhibition/gallery visits, the creation of an online blog/website/portfolio, oral presentations, “mock” interviews, self-evaluation exercises, podcasts, online tuition, questionnaires & surveys.

ASSESSMENT

Learning and assessment is integrated, with assessment evidence being collected and feedback provided to the student on an ongoing basis. Structured core and elective subjects cover a variety of contexts using a range of strategies to meet different learner needs. These include: group-based, work-based, project-based, self-paced, action learning-based; e-learning; and involve practice and experience in a simulated work environment. The Job Briefs for each subject outline tasks to be completed, the competencies to be demonstrated and the practical outcomes to be produced. Units of Competency are clustered in the NCAT Folio Preparation course subjects and are delivered over the course of the full year. The units of competency are selected to provide students with a folio that demonstrates the building of acquired skills and the development of a specialised portfolio.

ELIGIBILITY AND ENTRY REQUIREMENTS

There are no prerequisites for the units of competency delivered in this program however it is recommended that people entering this qualification either possess CUA30715 Certificate III in Design Fundamentals or possess some creative and design skills. However, satisfactory completion of VCE or VCAL Senior, with demonstrated interest in the design related subject areas is required to gain entry into the NCAT Folio Preparation Program. Candidates must complete an application form and attend an interview to demonstrate their interest in the area.
